

NCAI & Environmental Information Exchange Network Tribal Webinar

The National Congress of American Indians (NCAI) invites you to a webinar to learn about U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) grant opportunities to improve sharing of environmental data in Indian Country through the Environmental Information Exchange Network. The webinar will be approximately 90 minutes, with time for questions and answers after each presentation.

Monday, August 23, 2010

3:30 - 5:00 p.m. EASTERN

Webinar Link: <https://www1.gotomeeting.com/register/284044576>

(Click on this link to register and join the webinar. Registration before the webinar is encouraged, but not required. Please join the web conference a few minutes before the start of the webinar.)

Call-in number: (888) 326 - 7492

Access Code: 370135#

If you have questions about the webinar or experience problems joining the meeting, you may contact Jennifer Tice at Ross & Associates Environmental Consulting at jennifer.tice@ross-assoc.com or 206-447-1805. (You may also contact the GoToWebinar help line at 1-888-259-8414 or gotomeetingcare@citrixonline.com.)

Featuring:

Karl Alvarez of the U.S. EPA on the Exchange Network grant opportunities, the fiscal year 2011 grant application process and schedule, and the attributes of a successful grant application.

Bruce Jones of the Northwest Indian Fisheries Commission and member of the NCAI Exchange Network Tribal Governance Group on how tribes in the Pacific Northwest are using the Water Quality Exchange (WQX) to share water quality data among member tribes and EPA.

About NCAI

Founded in 1944, the National Congress of American Indians is the oldest, largest and most representative American Indian and Alaska Native organization in the country. NCAI advocates on behalf of tribal governments, promoting strong tribal-federal government-to-government policies, and promoting a better understanding among the general public regarding American Indian and Alaska Native governments, people and rights. For more information, go to <http://www.ncai.org>

About the Environmental Information Exchange Network

The Exchange Network is a secure Internet- and standards-based approach for exchanging environmental data and improving environmental decisions. The U.S. EPA, State environmental departments, and U.S. tribes and territories are partnering to build the Exchange Network to increase access to environmental data and make the exchange of data more efficient. For more information, visit www.exchangenetwork.net