

Peggy Flanagan serves as Deputy National Field Director at Wellstone Action Fund and coordinates the organization's new Native American Leadership Program.

A member of the White Earth Band of Ojibwe in Minnesota, Peggy was elected to the Minneapolis School Board in 2004 and is the first Native American to serve on that body. She has worked as Director of Community Outreach for the Minnesota Democratic-Farmer-Labor Party (2004-2006), as coordinator of Urban Immersion Service Retreats for the Greater Minneapolis Council of Churches (2003-2004), and as Project Manager of Parents Plus (2002-2003), a school readiness program at the Division of Indian Work in Minneapolis.

Peggy is state director for INDN's List, the only grassroots political organization devoted to recruiting and electing Native American candidates, and was the Native American Community Coordinator for the Kerry-Edwards Campaign in Minnesota in 2004. She sits on the boards of several community organizations, including the Catholic Campaign for Human Development, Minneapolis Youth Coordinating Board, Minneapolis Youth Violence Prevention Board, Native Vote Alliance of Minnesota, and Young Elected Officials Network (a program of People for the American Way). She received her B.A. in American Indian Studies and child psychology from the University of Minnesota in 2002.
