The NCAI is working to ensure that as many tribes as possible are included in the dialogue as FEMA embarks on the consultation process. This session will be a broad discussion of the components of the Presidential Declaration Process including current capability and accountability requirements and the need for flexibility regarding tribal considerations in the final regulations and policy. Tribal emergency management professionals and FEMA representatives will serve as resources and advisors.	Marquette

Additionally, the training will cover strategies for working effectively with the Administration.	Monet 3
1:00-3:00	Increasing Tribal Authority in Washington State's Public Schools This meeting will launch a new NCAI pilot project focused on one of Indian Country's key education priorities: strengthening tribal control over the education of Native students. Funded through the Gates Foundation, NCAI will partner with tribes in Washington state to explore strategies to increase their roles in education and build the capacity of tribal education systems. 1:00-4:00	Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) The Taskforce successfully passed tribal Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) priorities at the 2013 NCAI Annual Convention. As a follow up to that meeting, this session will update the Taskforce on the status of TANF and identify effective strategies to implement the TANF resolution. This meeting will also allow participants to offer additional recommendations for programmatic changes that will assist tribes and tribal TANF participants.	Monet 4
1:30-5:00	Federal Recognition Task Force The Federal Recognition Task Force will continue its work to address the Interior Department regulations governing the federal acknowledgement process. Since the 1970's, NCAI has supported a federal process of recognition for Indian tribes that have maintained tribal relations from historical times. The current federal process has deteriorated with decades-long delays and questions about the fairness and integrity of the process.	Renoir
