BACKGROUND AND PURPOSE

THE RAMAH CLASS AND THE NATIONAL BUSINESS CENTER WILL PROVIDE TRAINING ON THE CHANGES TO THE CARRYFORWARD SCHEDULE TEMPLATES AND ON THE NEW PROCEDURES FOR SPECIAL INDIRECT COST RATES FOLLOWING A CLASS-WIDE SETTLEMENT ADOPTED IN AUGUST 2008.

TARGET PARTICIPANTS – TRIBAL FINANCE OFFICERS, AUDITORS AND PREPARERS OF TRIBAL IDC RATE PROPOSALS
SPACE LIMITED – ONLY TWO REGISTRANTS PER ORGANIZATION; ONLY ONE SESSION EACH

Through lecture and group exercises, participants will discuss:

- Background to the Settlement and Posture of the Ramah Class Action (to be addressed by Plaintiff's Counsel)
- Basic changes to Carryforward template: shortfall column, over-funded column, Carryforward calculation and footnotes
- Ways to optimize Carryforward calculations with more detailed accounting data supported with financial statements or post audit support
- Special rates and NBC examples for special rate proposals (2 or 3 rate options)
- Review special rate option examples and associated Carryforward templates and practice how to use them

There is no registration fee, but registered participants are responsible for their own travel, food, and lodging.

Because of space limitations:

(a) registration for and participation in these sessions will be on a first come, first serve space available basis.

(b) tribes or tribal organizations may send no more than 2 participants to a training session;

ONE TRAINING SESSION PER PARTICIPANT UNLESS SPACE IS AVAILABLE

(c) registrants must identify on behalf of what tribe or tribal organization they are registering. Only representatives of federally recognized Indian tribes or tribal organizations contracting with BIA under the ISDA and who have indirect cost rates established by NBC may attend. Tribes may designate an employee or an outside consultant or auditor as their representative to attend this training. NOTE: This conforms to the class definition in the PSA-III settlement, and while some other tribal organizations presently using the DCA rates may want to attend, space limitations compel that we focus on Ramah class members.

- A video of an entire training session and copies of all training materials will be created and posted on the following websites. Participants are encouraged to bring their lap tops to the session with downloads of the new templates and training materials. These materials are made available at no cost, and can also be downloaded from the following websites:
